

On 12/16/05, a PSE employee mistakenly forwarded an e-mail from a PSE transmission function employee to several PSE merchant function employees which contained non-public transmission information about a third party transmission provider's system. The non-public transmission information is commercially-sensitive and PSE is working with the third party to determine what information may be posted. This information will be posted as soon as practicable.