

06/18/08

In February 2008, a PSE merchant function employee was inadvertently granted access to non-public transmission information on the Company's Energy Management System. The employee was not aware of the access and did not view any non-public transmission information.

On June 17, 2008, when it became known that the employee had access to non-public transmission information, his access was immediately restricted.