

October 2, 2008

On October 1, 2008, a transmission function employee posted a work-in-progress draft document containing system planning information on an internal Company network drive available to all employees. On the morning of October 2, 2008, the document was deleted from the public drive. We are unable to determine if the document had been accessed. No files will be shared between the affected departments until a secured file transfer system has been created.
